RAINELLE HIGH SCHOOL

Foreword

We, the Seniors of 1944, bring you this year's "Ranger". We hope it will be one of your most prized possessions and will bring back many happy memories of your school days.

We feel proud to be able to bring this yearbook to you. We think it is worth the time and patience we spent doing our part in getting ready the material needed to make a good annual. We hope you will like our issue of "The Ranger".

Dedication

This year, we, the seniors of 1944 are being graduated into a world of chaos. Our class is represented even now in the armed forces of our country and with sad hearts, we watched classmates march away to war. Yet, our hearts are proud.

We feel that we could not find a better dedication for our yearbook than to "our world of tomorrow." The belief that peace and happiness will become supreme again, is our chief thought at this moment.

And so, the senior class dedicates this yearbook to the future. May the future contain many happy years for us all, "tomorrow when the world is free".

Class History

Looking back across the past we see
Seventy four children, including me.
Freshmen now! No longer graders!
Miss Hughtart and Mrs. Hundley are our "beraters."
Presidents: brave Claude Vance and Beryl Hardy
Florence Smith and Jack Wilt to help we see.
Parties were plenteous, happy and carefree
The world at peace, how happy were we.
But time goes on.

Seventy sophomores, another year now
Hoping to weather storms but not knowing how.
Charming Sara Fox is drum major of the band
Miss Williams and Coach Moore lend all a helping hand
Bobby Griffis and Tom Ocheitree are each president.
Now --- tragedy strikes! Bad without precedent!
Marie Martin, killed in an accident.
Hushed and sad, our heads we bent at her departure, how reverent;
But life is just starting.

September 1942, school year just starting now
Juniors were we --- so proud and how
The seniors were indignant when our voices rang
Thru the high school halls and doors did bang!
Beautiful colors: All blue and white
The tulip we loved with all our might.
President "Scotty" and Tommy vice-president sublime
All are juniors now; please take your time.
Mrs. Judy and Holsberry were each a class guide
Our banquet was beautiful; we swelled with pride.
Several boys were leaving to help win the war
Represented in Quill and Scroll, our fears now are past.
Honor Society members, upper-classmen at last.

Forty-eight seniors; our joys we hold fast
Mr. Haught is returned to us, now, at last.
Scared and helpless afraid for our fate,
Searching madly for credits to graduate
Sara Fox and Curtis Scott as officials do shine
While secretary-treasurer is Burton Powers third time.
Mary Sue edits The Mountain Ranger so fine
A class yearbook is promised after pleading and tears.
Our class history is finished: our four happiest years.

Class Prophecy

If you want a plan for a fine home, no matter what sex,
See Louise Painter, she married an architect.

Way down south where the peanuts grow,
That's where Ruth Ann Neal longs to go.

Geraldine Bradley is a dandy worker,
She is still a soda jerker.

Burton Powers is having a tough life,
He is out hunting for a dainty little wife.

Eugene Johnson is still fat and funny,
He is working in a shoe-shop, and is he making money!

Delvin Simms, that mustache man,
Is helping our good friend, Uncle Sam.

Eugene Nelson, whom the girls still adore,
Is working as a butcher, in a down-town store.

Mary Sue Friar's work is never done,
For she is the editor of The Baltimore Sun.

Maxine Goddard is living a happy life;
She married Junior Jones, and made him a fine wife.

If you want a shampoo or a coiffure,
See Sadie Kane, receive these and a manicure.

Betty King who was always the class "dunce,"
Married "Butch" and settled down at once.

Kathleen Rickman, a good housewife she did make,
But she gets rather angry when her husband comes home late!

Curtis Scott used to be the school's "Romeo";
He is now a news commentator in New Mexico.

Ed. Simpson left Rainelle for Hollywood,
He is playing the leading role in "I Wish I Could".

Down in Tennessee near the Tennessee River,
You can see Rosalie Mann as "Rosie the Riveter".

Mary Elliott is an actress over the radio,
But she can cook, and dance, and my how she can sew!

Allyne Boggs became a teacher,
Stoical to the last, she jilted a preacher.

Lavona Surbaugh is now a wife;
She married Paul and stopped all strife.

Our singer Doris Faulkner who never failed to blush,
Attended a music school, and sings like a thrush.

Christine Boggs with a waddle and a hop,
Now models clothes in a New York shop.

Frances Smith with the little girl smile,
Married a senator and laughs all the while.

Mary Jones is a phys. ed. teacher.
Louise Simms married a preacher.

Kathryn Wickline has a lot of knowledge,
She is dean of the Wesleyan College.

Katherine Keeney wears laces fine,
She hopes she'll marry a king sometime.

Margaret Hershberger is like Frank Sinatra,
She makes the men swoon when she sings in the opera.

Bobby Griffis is in the Cadet Nurse Corps,
She is satisfied and not asking for more.

Josephine Smith is as pretty as a fairy;
She's in Ann Arbor as a secretary.

Nadine Slaven, in this city she will stay--
She is working in a grocery store and receiving good pay.

Lloyd McClain, during school days was a Shakespearean lover,
He is now in Charleston making synthetic rubber.

Tommy Ocheltree is now a big hero,
He has shot down several Zeroes.

Betty Neal the black headed girl,
Is an air stewardess, and has flown around the world.

Pete Craft now serves Uncle Sam,
But he still insists we need more land.

Kathleen Hughart - a nurse is she,
She loves her work - keeps busy as a bee.

Louise Willard married Garland Smith,
And we in school thought it a myth!

Sara Fox teaches French to all,
She gained the idea from our play last fall.

The sunny Junior Robinson, as shy as a fox,
Is a politician, now lectures on a soap-box.

Frances Shockley a grand mathematician,
Makes school kids behave like a fine magician.

Ernest Simms a great red-headed farmer,
Fell for Louise Tinchler who was such a charmer.

Dorothy Jones always so noisy and loud,
Is a tobacco auctioneer, and yells at the crowd.

Monte Dickson is such a grand minister;
Crowds flock to hear him, especially each spinster.

Maxine Carter joined the Spars.
Has only been promoted to corporal so far.

Chester Vaughan trains horses to act,
He prefers animals to women--and that's a fact!

Blanche Dalton, voted favorite fan-dancer by the males,
Is doing her best dancing for the Prince of Wales!

Leora O'Dell, a grand secretary,
Likes her boss fine and is never contrary.

Hones Ross is destined to sing,
But remains a bachelor--of all things!

Football

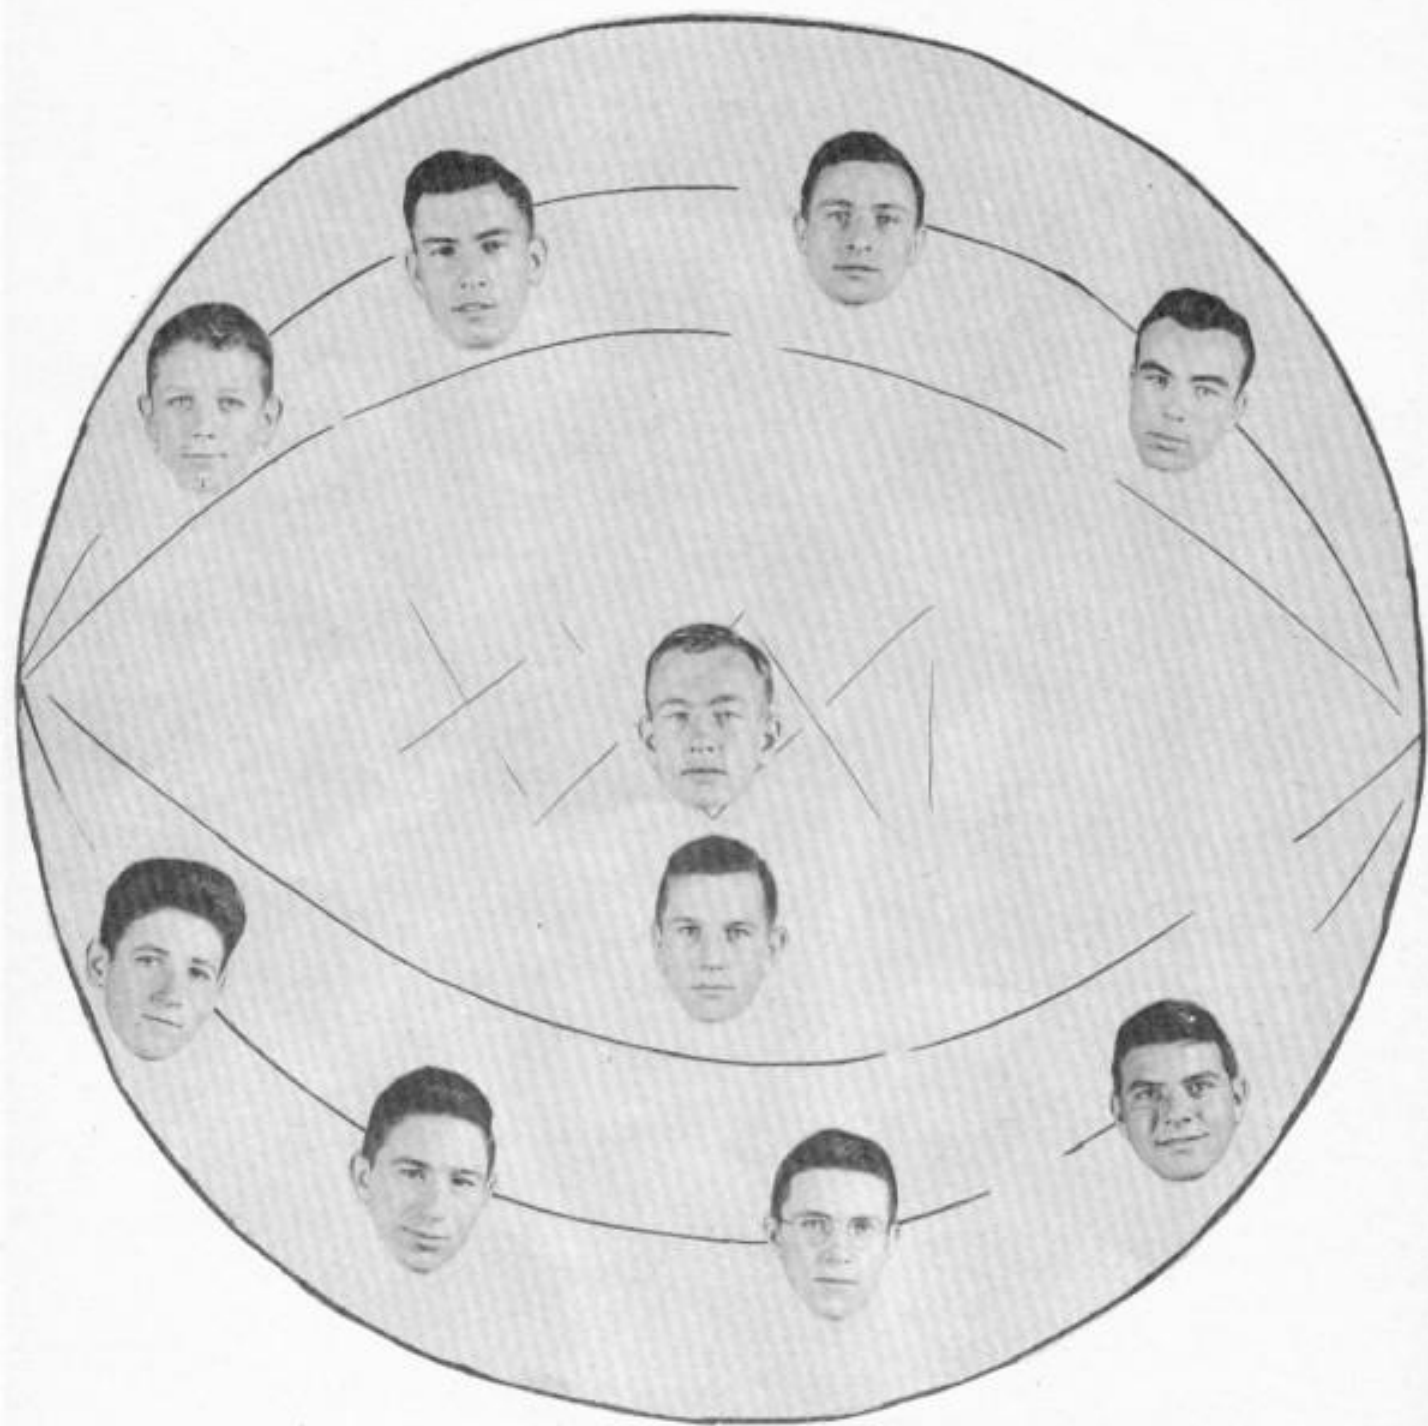

Rainelle High School's "Rangers" enjoyed a very successful season under the direction of Coach Robert Nickel and assistant coach Grant Gutshall. They ended the season with six wins and four defeats.

On November 19, four seniors played their last football for Rainelle High School. They were Tom Ocheltree, Chester Vaughan, "Pete" Craft, and Curtis Scott. Led by these four boys the Rangers defeated the Rupert "Crimson Tide" 35-12 in a game that was highlighted by a 104 yard touch run by Tom Ocheltree.

The outlook for a good season next year is very favorable, but it will be a tough loss to the team of these four boys who are really considered "Rangers". Good luck to you of next year's team.

- October 28. Seniors class rings arrive and every one is in a dither! Especially the class in question!
- October 1. In a definitely one-sided game, Lookout was defeated on our field with the score 65-0.

- December 3. Seniors present an excellent play, "The Girl From Childs" in their effort to buy new stage curtains. All to forgiven in regard to play practice!
 7. In remembrance of our fatal day at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, we have a special assembly with Mr. Harry C. Bradley as guest speaker.
 14. Modern Civil War begins when juniors plan a debate on the negro question.
 20. The new stage curtains arrive and are admired by the entire school. Thank you, seniors!
 21. The Christmas issue of The Mountain Ranger arrives and the new staff is to be complimented on the nice paper.

 23. School closes for the Christmas holidays. What a happy occasion!

- January 33. Back to school and somehow we just can't settle down after the wonderful vacation. Could it be Mr. Haught's engagement?
55. "Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow--" remember that seniors? Yes, it's Macbeth, none other, and we're just plain dumb on the subject.
6. Someone's written a new song. It's "Sinatra, Stay Away From My Gal" which might apply to some of our little Rainelle gals, who swoon over The Voice!
13. Mr. E. R. Shafer, attendance director, visited the high school.
- 17-18. For the first time since school started, all's quiet in the high school. Semester tests are 1 1/2 hours long and we wonder if we've ever gone to school before.

10. Regional Tournament is held at Beckley. We failed to rate that, but we can dream, can't we?
15. This is something a little different, but nice. It's Miss Fiannagan's birthday! The Home Ec. gave a program on nutrition--also a film on "Digestion, Nutrition, Fun and Foods."
- 17-18. The Junior High Tournament is the high-spot of these few days.
24. The Annual Variety Show is given before a large crowd by the senior class. Very good, seniors!

- May 5. The senior class presents its second play for the school year. Very nice season for our amateur actors and actresses.
12. The junior class sponsors its annual junior-senior banquet in the high-school auditorium. A beautiful affair--but gave the seniors an empty feeling to know that it was their last banquet.

22. The commencement play is given, entitled, "Pride and Prejudice."
23. The seniors decide in favor of a student program and it is given at Commencement Exercises in the auditorium.
