ALL THE WORLD'S A
STAGE AND ALL THE
MEN AND WOMEN
MERELY PLAYERS

When the trees cast their lengthy shadows across the lawn and a breeze rustles through their leaves, they whisper secrets of bygone days; one who listens closely on a quiet afternoon will learn their secrets--rare treasures collected as the swaying spectators watched the unsuspecting actors and actresses perform skillfully, or perhaps clumsily, in preparation for a not too distant future. Listen closely some quiet day and perhaps you will hear the leaves cawing and murmuring untold tales of the Class of '64.

The Cast

Dedication

For your loyalty to the Senior class, for your guidance and your leadership through our high school years, we proudly and affectionately dedicate the '64 Ranger to you, Mr. Donald Smith, our teacher, our companion, and our friend. You have done much to instill in us those qualities which will best suit us for our roles in the drama of life.

As a social studies teacher your knowledge and enthusiasm have helped us to gain an interesting insight into that field.

They Have Their Exits And Their Entrances

Though at first overwhelmed by the tremendous task which lay before us, we grew steadily, so that each year we moved closer toward our common goal.

The gaiety of "serious classes", the friendship you made, your search for knowledge -- these are everyday memories we have come to treasure.

We used all our wiles against the villain, Work; became involved in the intricate plot of classroom and assignments; and proudly assumed the hero's role when we took home A's.

And One Man In His Time Plays Many Parts

As the scenes changed, so do our parts. Some of us, infatuated with the drama, starred in many roles. Others, less enthusiastic, settled for minor parts. But through the years we came to realize that the number of parts is unimportant. What counts is the quality of one's own performance.

Quiet . . .

Frequently we took refuge in the calmness of our own minds. The purpose of seeking an education is to gain knowledge. Our resources are many.

To our activities fall the task of adding the finishing gloss to character molded by study.

Patience, fortitude, and self control are necessary for mastering the mechanics of lockers. Opening one of "those things" requires talent during the few minutes between classes.

Rowdy . . .

Preparing for an English research theme.

We yelled for our team in an atmosphere of electric excitement.

Tense . . .

Everyone became familiar with the strange sensation of fear, the sudden fear--most common at the crucial point in a game, the gnawing fear that lingered while a test was being administered. We learned to act in a crisis.

Relaxed . . .

In our relaxed moments we were the happiest individuals alive. In seconds we could exchange the thoughts of an unpleasant previous hour for lively conversation--a wonderful panacea for the blues.

Serious . . .

Attending Church

The occasions when we participated in the extra-curricular activities were our happiest moments. Classroom decorum was discarded like a drab garment as we rollicked and frisked, giving our time and talents to clubs we represented.
